

El Gauchito are three businessmen, two from Argentina and one from Germany, curious about new flavors and know that Argentina has much more to offer than first class steaks.

Top wines, Dulce de Leche and Yerba Maté are just a few of the many argentine specialties, which has to be tasted sometimes in life.

All the products you will find at El Gauchito are hand-picked and personally chosen, tried and found to be good. We attach great importance to animal welfare and sustainable biological production.

The argentine roots, close personal contacts with argentinean producers on the one hand, and the distribution and "know-how" in Germany on the other hand makes El Gauchito to something very special.

As El Gauchito, we want to enable the Argentinean specialties to be enjoyed by the german and european consumers and to share the argentine lifestyle with Europe.

Accompany us with your products on the trip from Argentina to Germany and take advantage of our experience.

And by the way, El Gauchito also works in the other direction. You have products for the argentine market? But you don't have contacts and expertise in Latinamerika? Contact us, we can help you!

Your benefits of El Gauchito

We have our own warehouse and distribution center, where we store the goods immediately and offer an efficient door-to-door logistics service.

A trendy online shop is under construction and will soon be put on the web.

Our German manager is a businessman who knows the European mentality and has a sense for the market, for new trends and customers. He has good relationships with various supermarkets, gastronomy and catering companies.

During many travels in Argentina, he has collect a lot of experience with his argentine partners, and he knows the good quality of argentine products and knows which ones will be successful in Europe.

For this reason we created El Gauchito - a German-Argentinean company.
