History

Maccuri was born in 2017 as a result of a need to bring the wonderful products that are produced in Peru closer to homes around the world. At the same time integrate Peruvian superfoods farmers to the progress of the country and thus bring sustainable development to their homes.

Social and Environmental Responsibility

Maccuri is the result of commitment to the environment and promoting sustainable development practices. Thanks to this commitment, we, suppliers, and customers commit to preserve environmental conditions and carry out their activities in a responsible and sustained manner.

Mission

Produce, with quality procedures, and commercialize foods based on Peruvian superfoods to satisfy the needs of consumers around the world.

Vision

To ensure that our products are consumed at the table of each home.
