

HOT MAMA'S®
Belize

Hot Mama's Belize Limited is a registered brand name and saucy love child of Howard & Wilana Oldham. Our processing plant and gift shop sits nestled among the rolling hills of Unitedville Village in the Cayo District. This facility is still fairly new, but we are already considering expansion due to product popularity and the increase in demand both, locally and internationally. Seven of our products have gotten US FDA approval for shipment into the USA and this approval covers all the different sizes.

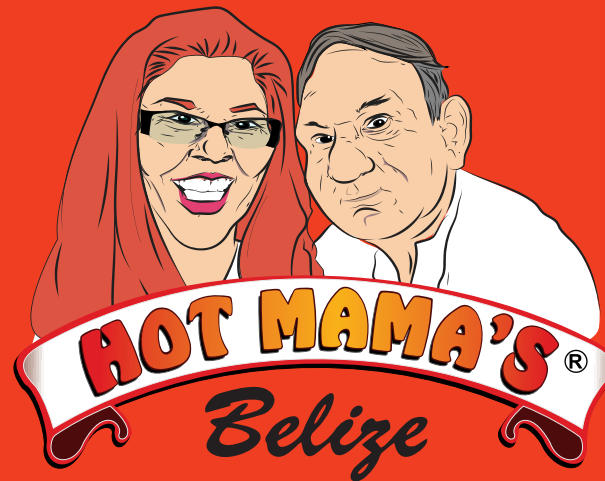

We are a growing company, dedicated to producing the very best in our product line. Every effort is made to ensure the highest international standards are met, a claim that becomes evident from the moment you set foot on the property. Our grounds are pristine, our safety protocols are heavily enforced, and Wilana's quality checks are legend.

Our practices focus on sustainability and each year we take new measures to reduce our carbon footprint. The most recent of which is our fully solar powered factory which offers 8 tons of CO2 savings per year.

We are also fully committed to our local farmers and only use fresh local produce in our products. We forge strong partnerships and help to build each other along with our country. No imported peppers here.

Our team contributes to a variety of programs (mostly to the benefit of children) and offers guided tours to the schools that are interested in learning more about our processes.

We thank you for considering our products in your establishment and look forward to welcoming you to the Hot Mama's Belize Family.

Meet Our Sister Company

Aunt Sadie's Belize Limited is a registered brand name in the US and is the banner we fly under when exporting our products.

Aunt Sadie was originally from the Islands of Roatan, Honduras where she grew up. She was actually the first person to introduce us to the habanero pepper jelly and that is what started it all.

The first time we met her was on our wedding day, when Howard and I got married in Texas. From the very beginning, she radiated that warm feeling of home and comfort. We loved Aunt Sadie and enjoyed visiting her quite often over the years. She was a joy to be with and was always in the kitchen cooking or preparing something to eat. Her passion for cooking was unlike any other we have experienced even up to today. Many times she would take us out to her little garden to show the different types of peppers or whatever she was growing at the time. She was generous and quick to share her bounty. Whether it was cooking just a home meal or for a gathering of family and friends; you could see the joy in her eyes. She taught us that cooking and using fresh ingredients, such as peppers, is a great experience that makes you happy and everyone else happy as well. In essence, Aunt Sadie was the muse, my source of inspiration for all the sauces and products that we now produce.

Meet our NEW LOOK. We hope you like it.

In 2021, we decided to shake things up a bit and venture off into a company-wide rebrand. This included a hot and saucy new logo, new labels for our products, new merchandise in our gift shop, a new website (on the way), a fully rebranded gift shop (look out for it!) and a NEW WAY OF DOING THINGS.

All directed at serving you better and delivering the products you love.

We did say this was gonna be a wild ride.

KEEPIN' IT SAUCY.
