Melipona beecheii honey has been considered a core remedy in the Mayan first aid kit for millennia, so its medicinal virtues have been known since many centuries ago.

Melipona beecheii* Virgin Honey:

Traditionally used to regenerate cells and strengthen the immune system. Its antibacterial properties have been known for centuries. Contains methylglyoxal, gluconic acid and peroxide. Rich in B complex vitamins, vitamin C, riboflavin, pantothenic acid, niacin, thiamine, pyridoxine, ascorbic acid and potassium.

Nowadays scientific studies are being done in various parts of the world that prove its benefits.

Melipona beecheii* Pollen::

Melipona beecheii honey with pollen is comparable with royal jelly in terms of attributes, however its nutritional compounds far outnumber the properties of the latter.

The Mayans called it “the food of the Sun” because of the numerous vitamins, proteins and minerals it contains. Its constant consumption increases the defenses and manages to improve many conditions.

This is a natural remedy that has no negative effects.
The results have been scientifically proven.
Some treatments last longer than others.
